THOMPSON, BELDEN & Co.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING, COR. 10TH AND DOUGLAS STS.

The body was removed to the morgue. It is probable that an inquest will be held. Kolmer was about 35 years old. During the last few months he has been arrested several times for molesting his wife and boy. Once he resisted the officer and the latter had to club him on the head in order to render him tractable. A severe scalp wound was the result of the blow. While the police surgeon was sewing this up on the operating table Kolmer remarked: "It's no use doing that. Before those stitches are made I'll be stretched out on another kind of a table."

He made his prophesy good, for it was observed Saturday that the wound made by the officer's club was still fresh.

WILLIAM CARLOW A SUICIDE

Well Known Shoe Salesman Drinks Dose of Laudanum and Dies.

William M. Carlow, 34 years old, a clerk employed by the Dress Shop company, committed suicide Friday night by taking two ounces of laudanum at his home, 6001 North Thirtieth street. No cause is known for the act except that he had been drinking heavily for several days. It is supposed also that the heat was a contributing cause. He leaves a wife and one son, the latter 11 years old.

About 7 in the evening Carlow went out in the back yard of his home, where he sat in a hammock. A moment later his wife's sister, who was visiting at the house, saw him drink something out of a small bottle and afterwards throw the empty phial away. She at once notified Mrs. Carlow, who was upstairs.

Meanwhile the sister had found the empty phial and noticed that it was labeled "Laudanum." She handed it to Mrs. Carlow.

Called for a Doctor. "You didn't swallow all of this, did you, Will?" asked his wife. "Yes, every drop of it," he answered, "but I think if you'll send for a doctor right away you may be able to save me."

These were his last coherent words. A moment later the poison began to take effect, and he soon lapsed into unconsciousness. Dr. Ellis was sent for at once and everything known to medical skill was done for the man, but to no purpose. They worked

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated? He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack. What he wants to know is what will permanently cure his disease. That, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It corrects the acidity of the blood on which the disease depends, strengthens the stomach, liver and kidneys, and builds up the whole system. Try Hood's.

PREPARING FOR FESTIVAL

Accession of King Ak-Sar-Ben VII Will Bring Fete of Splendor.

MANY BRILLIANT EVENTS ARRANGED FOR STREET FAIR AND MIDWAY WILL SURPASS LAST YEAR'S SHOWING AND THE PARADES WILL ALSO BE RECORD BREAKERS.

The work of arranging the details of the fall festivities of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben is being carried on rapidly under the direction of Thomas Gutz, at 319 South Sixteenth street. The merchants and manufacturers of the city are getting behind the festival project in a way which is an agreeable surprise to even the most sanguine supporter of the new line of kings of Denmark.

The demand for space is such that those who desire to be represented at the street fair must make their reservations early in order to secure positions suited to their purposes. Many of the exhibitors last year expressed a desire to have the position to be far away from the main part of the fair, so that they might receive the cumulative advertising benefits of the space. There are no reservations maintained at the central office unless a request for that action has been made, and the first to make application for space will be the one to get choice. Under these conditions the fair is expected to be the most available space set aside for advertising purposes will be gone within a week or so, as practically every one who had space last year will be back again and some of them with increased space.

The attractions for the fair this season are the most varied and the most interesting. The idea of the street fair was sprung rather late in the season in 1900 and when the managers began to look around for attractions they found that much of the cream of the talent had been secured by other cities for the period of the fair in Omaha. This was the fact which was anticipated from the first and the managers have an open field and no fear for the signing of attractions. Some features have already been secured.

OUT OF THE BEATEN TRACK

Americans Discover Delightful Spots Along the Coast of France.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, July 20.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—This is the dullest July in the history of Paris. The terrific heat has absolutely stopped social life. While Americans are scarcely less than inured to the heat, the Parisians who are famous for their love of the sun, have been driven to cooler temperatures at the mountain resorts.

Lucerne, St. Moritz and Interlaken report unusual American activity. Trouville, Biarritz and Parisian, the Normandy coast resorts, have gay crowds of our compatriots, while several comparatively new resorts, such as Roscoff, a quaint village in Brittany, and Treport, near Dieppe, discovered last season by some American writers of unimpaired charms, are now entirely flooded with fashionable Yankees who are better pleased with rustic simplicity than with costly smartness.

American art students founded two years ago the summer colony of Pouldu, the extreme end of Brittany, in the department of Finistere, a wildly picturesque region where the primitive inn gives solid comfort at 75 cents a day. This year ninety young American artists of both sexes are there in order to realize the dream of a colony of fashionable idlers, who ruin new places with their ostentations and money. The Pouldu colony hives away all intruders not painters, sculptors or writers. Willow is the patriarch of this Bohemian congregation.

Richardson, Fournier, Faulkner and Morrice report that they, with about fifty other Yankee painters, are having a jolly hot time in Venice. Other attractions of the fair are the "Streets of the Orient," in which at Ghiesbregt, Egypt, and other oriental scenes minus the insects and the dirt.

Features of the Midway.

Every feature of the fair will be the best of its kind, as the manager has at this time nearly the whole field to select from. There are to be several features of the midway which the board of governors are carefully guarding from the public, and aside from the fact that space has been reserved for them, no one outside of those who are weekly practicing for the presentation has any idea what will be shown upon the reservation.

In large crowds, which were present at the fair and parade last season brought forcibly to the attention of all concerned the excellent location of Omaha as a place to reach the eyes and ears of a large part of the inhabitants of the state of Nebraska and the western part of the United States. It is shown by the inquiries regarding space for industrial displays which are reaching the office of the director from other states.

AMERICAN YACHTS ABROAD

On Northern Seas of Europe Fronts Many a Millionaire's Craft.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, July 20.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Among the American yachts now cruising in the northern seas of Europe are the following: Mrs. Robert Goelt's yacht Nahana, after the kater's visit to Kiel, took on board a party of ten, including that aristocratic lady, the Duchess de Ligneux. Nahana has just left Stockholm for Copenhagen, where Mrs. Goelt will be received at the Danish court, giving a splendid moonlight sailing fête in return.

W. K. Vanderbilt's yacht, Valiant is moored at Plymouth, England, awaiting the owner's return to the United States. Arthur Kinckley's Calanthe, sailed at Havre two weeks ago and steamed away with a bachelor crew. It has never been reported since and presumably is loafing in some of the bays of the coast of Sweden or Norway.

James Gordon Bennett has not yet taken possession of his new English-built yacht, Lysistrata. The Varuna, belonging to Eugene Higgins, has left Southampton after a general overhauling, rendered necessary by a long season in the Mediterranean last winter. Mr. Higgins intends to touch at Dieppe soon to take on board a large party of young and wealthy Americans. He may go exploring about Iceland.

Margarita, Anthony Drexel's white marvel, is now anchoring off St. Petersburg, where it serves as headquarters for lots of jolly entertainers. It may stay there until it is joined by Sultan, John Drexel's boat.

LIPTON MAY TURN TO TURF

Failing to Lift America's Cup, He's Likely to Seek Consolation Among Horses.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) LONDON, July 20.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—If Sir Thomas Lipton fails to lift the America's cup this year with Shamrock II he intends to drop international yachting and devote his leisure to the turf. R. S. Stevier, a professional hacker of horses, now what are regarded as the four best two-year-olds in training, Seppier, Duke of Westminster, Lavengro and Debarry, for which Lipton, anxious to begin racing with a big boom, has offered $200,000, a record price. These horses cost Stevier only $12,500. They are entered in all the classic races and Stevier has asked Lipton $100,000 more. King Edward recently expressed surprise that Lipton had not tried horse racing. This is Sir Thomas' way of taking a royal hint.

KAISER PREPARES DEFENSE

Gets Plans Ready to Resist the Approach of a Fleet in the Baltic.

(Copyright, 1901, by Press Publishing Co.) BERLIN, July 20.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—The Kaiser is spending his holiday in Norwegian fjords preparing plans for the autumn maneuvers. He sits all day under an awning on deck studying maps for a combined land and naval campaign for the defense of the Fatherland against a fleet in the Baltic. He preaches on Sundays, which shows that an eccentric fit is on him.

Report on River Improvements.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Major Thomas L. Carey, in reporting to the chief of engineers upon river improvements in Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi, makes the following estimates for the improvement of the Mississippi river, which was under the Eads contract until January 28, 1901, when the contract terminated. The required depth of twenty-six feet and a width of 200 feet was maintained from July 8, 1870, to the time the contract was completed. There were deficiencies in depth or width, 572 days during the period.

Bradford's Minority Report.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Admiral Bradford's report on the construction of the navy, submitted to Secretary Long, a minority report on the proposed new battleships. The report favors six and eight-inch guns instead of a seven-inch gun in broadside batteries, as recommended by the majority report. Admiral Bradford also argues for the retention of the superposed turret. He cites the discussions leading up to the adoption of plans for ships now building to show that the present majority plan is not in line with the best judgment of naval experts.

Partial Census Report.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The census office today issued a statement giving the statistics of the school, militia and voting population of the states of Idaho and Illinois and Hawaii, the results being as follows: School age: Hawaii, 33,774; Idaho, 54,944; Illinois, 1,589,915. Healer Schlatzer Fined.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Francis Schlatzer, the so-called "Divine Healer," was tried in the police court today and fined $10 or thirty days in the workhouse.

GOVERNOR ALLEN ARRIVES

Makes Boston in Middle of Night and Stops to Washington.

BOSTON, July 20.—Governor Charles H. Allen of Porto Rico reached this city late last night on the yacht Mayflower, but the fact did not become known until today, because the governor directed the yacht to stop down the channel, while he took a launch and landed in time to catch the midnight train for Washington. This morning, with all the appearance of having just arrived, the Mayflower steamed up to the navy yard and exchanged salutations with Rear Admiral Sampson. When inquiry was made for Governor Allen, it was stated that he had gone to Washington. Later the cleaver plan pursued by the governor in making quick time toward Washington was learned.

Mrs. Allen, who accompanied her husband on the Mayflower, did not leave the ship until this afternoon. She went to the Allen home in Lowell, where she expects Mr. Allen to join her in a few days. The Mayflower, in command of Commander James D. Adams, U. S. N., left directly here, with no hindrance save fog. Captain Adams said that Governor Allen intended to go to Canton tonight to confer with President McKinley regarding the Porto Rican free trade proclamation, of which he was the bearer. In response to an inquiry on the probability of the governor resigning his position and remaining in this country, Captain Adams said: "I don't know what Mr. Allen intends to do."

MONTEPELLIER, Ind., July 20.—Crude oil today made the greatest jump in one day that it has accomplished since 1893. Indiana jumped from 80 cents to 96 cents and eastern oils were marked up 10 cents. Oil men are excited over the 12-cent advance in Indiana oil in three days.

They were accompanied by John Van Dusen, a companion, who was badly injured. Though his injuries were not serious, Van Dusen was taken to the bodies of his friends until this morning and then telegraphed their relatives here.

CANUCKS' STROKE TOO FAST

Vesper Eight of Philadelphia Trails in Third Place.

IT'S PHILADELPHIANS' FIRST DEFEAT

Seems Result of the Two Canadian Crews Having Better Training—Other Events of Amateurs Regatta.

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—The world's champion Vesper eight-oared shell crew of this city, which has carried the colors of the Vesper club for many years, went down to defeat today before the strong Argonaut crew of Toronto, Can. In the last day of the annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. Not only was this crew whipped by the Canadians, but the eight crew of the Winnipeg Rowing club also fished past the champions and beat them out at the finish.

It was the first defeat for the Vesper eight. Their Waterloo did not come as a surprise to the experts who have followed their work during the season, and many of the predictions that in the Canucks from Toronto and Winnipeg they would meet their match. With the exception of two men, the Vesper crew was the same as that which wrested the victory from the world's oarsmen at Paris last year. The Argonauts were the same as they were last year, but ten seconds slower than the time made by the Vespers over the same course in a race last year. Winnipeg's time was 7:53.4, and the Vesper's 7:56.

Between 30,000 and 50,000 people saw the races. The weather was beautiful and the course was as smooth as the proverbial millpond. The high banks of the Schuylkill river were lined with enthusiastic crowds and thousands braved the danger of the railroad bridge at the finish line and swarmed all over the structure.

The dual contest for the championship of the United States in the singles was not as inspiring as was hoped for, and the honor will remain with the wonderful Ten Eyck for another year at least. Ten Eyck's sculling was just as finished as ever, and his grand handling of the mill was cheered to the echo by the opponent, towed a plucky race, but no matter how he tried to push to the front, the winner of the diamond sculls held him safely throughout the race.

Mostly First Class.

Most of the other races were of first-class order. In the international four-oared event, the Vespers, composed of four members of their eight, got revenge on the St. Louis crew which defeated them yesterday. The local men almost ran away from them.

The association singles was captured by Titus, formerly of New Orleans, but now of New York. Titus was disqualified yesterday for rowing with a false start, but was allowed to row today. In the final through the courtesy of the other contestants and defeated them.

The work of the Detroit intermediate doubles was again of a high order, this crew finishing its event rather easily. Toronto won two of the races, and the two and Newark, Detroit, Philadelphia and Worcester one each.

The heats in the intermediate singles were won rather easily. The man who failed to qualify was E. J. Hess of St. Louis. In the final heats of the event, two and Newark, Detroit, Philadelphia and Worcester one each.

The heats in the intermediate singles were won rather easily. The man who failed to qualify was E. J. Hess of St. Louis. In the final heats of the event, two and Newark, Detroit, Philadelphia and Worcester one each.

The intermediate four-oared shell race was a beauty to the eye, which was reached by Winnipeg Passaic of Newark and Harlem of New York together. Clifton of State Island was only two strokes behind. On the run home, however, Passaic got the lead through a pretty turn. Harlem tried to catch them and in doing so got into Clifton's water and fouled the latter. Passaic increased its lead and won handily, with Harlem second and Clifton third. Clifton claimed the foul and was given second place. Soon after the two Philadelphia men trailing along had Detroit get the jump first in the intermediate doubles. They rowed a beautiful even stroke and took the lead and held it from start to finish. The New York Athletic club crew was six lengths to the rear, with Harlem in last place.

The international four-oared event, with only the St. Louis crew and the Vespers of this city, was a procession. Vesper took the lead at the crack of the pistol and gave the western men their wash all the way down the course. The two and Passaic was three lengths, but would have had a bigger margin if the local men had not steered all over the river in nearing the finishing line.

The championship race between Greer and Ten Eyck was somewhat easy for the Worcester man. Ten Eyck did not immediately take the lead, but held on to Greer, who rowed three strokes to the minute faster than his rival until the half-mile mark was reached, when he gave a spurt and took the lead. He turned the stake in 4:45 and rowed home to victory in easy style. Ten Eyck's time was 5:14 seconds slower than the time in the association singles, showing that he was not pushed. What was looked upon as the event of the day was the last on the program—the eight, Winnipeg, which was not entered for this event, was allowed to row by courtesy of the Vespers and Argonauts. Starter Philip of New York was extremely careful to get a good start. Vesper, which had the east shore, caught the water first Winnipeg, on the outside course, was the last to catch. They were almost immediately left behind by the Vespers and Argonauts, showing that he was not pushed.

The plan is to avoid heat entirely for breakfast, and a good allowance of fruit, either cooked or raw. Then follow with a saucer containing about four heaping teaspoons of Grape-Nuts, treated with a little rich cream. Add to this about two slices of entire wheat bread, with a meager amount of butter, and serve one cup of Postum Food Coffee.

If one prefers, the Grape-Nuts can be turned into the cup of Food Coffee, giving a delightful combination. By this selection of food the bodily energy is preserved, while the hot, carbonaceous foods have been left out. The result is a very marked difference in the temperature of the body, and to this comfortable condition is added the certainty of easy and perfect digestion, for the food is readily worked up by the digestive machinery.

Experience and experiment in food and its application to the human body has brought out these facts. They can be made use of and added materially to the comfort of the user.

A COOL PROPOSITION

And a Sure One.

The Body Does Not Feel Heat Unpleasantly If You Use

GRAPE-NUTS.

KEEP COOL FROM PROPER HOT WEATHER FOOD.

People can live in a temperature which feels from ten to twenty degrees cooler than their neighbors enjoy, by regulating the breakfast.

The plan is to avoid heat entirely for breakfast, and a good allowance of fruit, either cooked or raw. Then follow with a saucer containing about four heaping teaspoons of Grape-Nuts, treated with a little rich cream. Add to this about two slices of entire wheat bread, with a meager amount of butter, and serve one cup of Postum Food Coffee.
